

be inspired!

For a week at a time, A.R.T. will fuse creative energy and give artists a chance to get out of their box, relate to new creative people, and most importantly to give themselves the experience of being inspired by the beauty of nature.

Come take a class once a week or take a 5 day workshop, making beautiful projects and learning new collage and mixed media techniques.

My 700 sq ft ocean front studio is stocked with interesting collections and art materials to combine and make art with.

what people say

"Hollie was an amazing artist to work with. She opened my eyes and inner artist to newness; patterns and pieces I hadn't considered before, interesting palettes of colors and playful compositions that weren't immediately obvious. With her gentle guidance, she truly helped me find and release my creativity. I'm deeply thankful for the space she has created and Hollie's thoughtful approach to teaching. Whether or not you're looking for it, you'll emerge from a class with her tapped in to your own unique eye and inner artist."
